Debts of the Turk.

The Ottoman Government has contracted for the construction of a battleship, to be named Assar-I-Tewfik, at the German works at Kiel, at a cost of £270,000.

The Cologne Gazette says that Germany, in a friendly way, informed the Porte that if the claims of the United States for damages growing out of the Armenian outrages were granted, Germany would expect similar treatment.

"The foreign engagements of the Porte for the purchase and renovation of war ships and for naval and military artillery now amount to £2,400,000," says the Constantinople correspondent of the Times. "While the treasury is absolutely empty and internal debts increase daily."

The Oskaloosa, Kan., Independent recently reported a former citizen, Dr. W. H. Ridgeway, as dead at Topeka, whereupon the man wrote and said: "I went home and told my wife I was dead and produced a copy of your paper in proof. While she is a good woman and all that, she thinks that your paper lied. And she showed the courage of her convictions by making me carry in a lot of coal and water. So, Mr. Editor, I may say that I am not dead, but I am mad."

The general board of the Navy, pre- sided over by Admiral Dewey, has tak- en up the question of the transfer of the United States naval station from Cavite and its permanent establish- ment on Subig bay. At the same time, the special board of naval officers now making inquiries in the Philippines as to the best site for a permanent naval station has cabled to Washing- ton for a full equipment of boring ap- paratus, in order to learn whether there is a suitable foundation at Subig bay and other points for the extensive dry docks and other equipment of such a station.

The Berliner Post of Dec. 29, 1900, summarizing Germany's naval progress says that seven vessels have been launched, including two battleships, one large cruiser and four small cruis- ers. The paper calls attention to the "unprecedented activity in the building of war ships," six of which are now in process of construction, including four battleships, one large cruiser and one gunboat.

"You gave a job to a wandering hobo the other day, I believe," said the vil- lage merchant. "How did he turn out?" "I had to let him go at the end of the third day," replied the altruistic farmer, regretfully. "By the time I had got him filled up with cornbread and bacon he was too full to work."
